TO HONOR FAME OF WASHINGTON

Public School Exercises Will Be Held Tomorrow.

DR. FARDON IS IN CHARGE

By His Untiring Efforts Presiding Officers and Speakers Have Been

Exercises to commemorate the anniversary of Washington's Birthday will be held in the public schools of the District tomorrow at 1:30 p. m., as Wednes-day, the 22d, is a holiday. All of the schools have arranged elaborate pro-grams and prominent speakers will addiess the pupils.

It was due to the untiring efforts of Dr. A. P. Fardon, chairman of the Washington Board of Trade's committee on public schools, that the presiding of-ficers and speakers for the occasion have been obtained. Ever since the idea of celebrating Washington's Birthday was inaugurated in the public schools by the Beard of Trade, Dr. Fardon has had charge of all the celebrations and has usually managed to make them success-

The exercises will consist of opening remarks by the presiding officer, an address by the speaker of the day, appropriate music, and recitations by the pupils. All of these will be made as patriotic as possible in order to impress upon the pupils' minds the reverence that is due the character of Washington both as a patriot and as a man, and to inspire them with the greatness of his life.

High School Arrangements.

The high schools have a somewhat ad vanced program, as befits students wh are in advance of the graded schools.

MARCONI WEDDING BANNS PUBLISHED

Miss O'Brien Becomes His Bride March 16.

IS A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN

Can Boast a Royal Pedigree, and Possesses Much Wit and

BOLOGNA, Feb. 20.-The banns for the marriage of William Marconi to Miss O'Brien have been published at the city hall. The religious wedding is fixed for March 16 at the Romen Catholie Church of St. George, London After the wedding husband and wife will leave for New York, where they will remain until the end of April and will then core to Rome, where it is reported they will be the guests of the King for a few days.

One of the Chevaller Marconi's chief worries has been the constant varieties of girls to whom the newspapers have of girls to whom the newspapers have engaged him to be marred. Excepting the German crown prince and the King of Spain the genius of wireless tel-egraphy probably has been betrothed by rumor oftener than any man living.

Boasts Royal Pedigree.

All of the women with whom rumor, from time to time, has coupled the name of the wireless wizard have been pretty girls. The Hon. Beatrice O'Brien is no exception to the rule, as her photograph shows. She can boast a royal pedigree, too. She is one of the eight sisters-all good-locking-of the fifteenth Baron Inchiquin, and can claim descent from the famous Irish monarch, Brian Borol-home, who was king of the Emerald Isle from 1992 to 1914, when he was slain at the head of his army at the battle of Clontarf.

His grandson, Turlogh, King of Munster, had four sons, whereof the third was the progenitor of the Barons Inchiquin. One of Turlogn's descendants, Connor O'Bryen, was king of Thormond at so comparatively recent a period as 1529, and it was his brother, Murrough, and also given the Inchiquin barony.

Vivacious and Witty.

A century later the barony developed into an earldom, the fifth holder of which saw it converted into a marquis-ate-that of Thormond-which died, however, with the third holder, while the other titles became dormant. It was Sir Lucius O'Brien, fifth baronet of an Irish creation in 1686, in whose favor the claim to the Inchiquin barony was made good a little over forty years ago, and his son was the father of Signor Marconi's bride-elect.

There is a solution of the little over forty years ago, and called at his house, and told him he had ten weeks to live.

There is a certain appropriateness in Marconi's choice of an Irishwoman for his wife, for his mother was of that his wife, for his mother was of that nationality, although, as everybody knows, his father was Italian and he was born in Italy.

She brings to Signor Marconi a dowry representing an annual income of $20,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 20.-Fire which the damage done to the latter hotel was roke out shortly after 10 o'clock Sunday small light in the millinery establishment of Fahnley & McCrea burned over half a block in the wholesale district, destroying three hotels, one of the largest drug houses in the State, and damaged other firms to a great degree. The total loss is figured at $1,085,000, with insurance of $844,000. For four hours the entire district was threatened, and every engine in the city and suburbs was at work on the fire. One fireman's leg was broken by falling

The manner in which the fire started is not known, but it is thought to have been from an explosion. The spread of the flames after the fire was discovered was ver? rapid, and but for a mantle of snow which covered the roofs in the district the entire quarter would probably have been destroyed. Some of the guests in the hotels had narrow escapes from suffocation, and only escaped in their night garments. Four firemen were slightly injured by failing walls.

UNIVERSITY WILL HOLD CONVOCATION

REGULAR DAY HEREAFTER

Unveiling of College Flag With Appropriate Ceremonies-Address by Justice Brewer.

One of the most interesting features of the college year at the George Washington University will be the win-ter convocation, to be held at the Lafayette Opera House next Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. A most impressive program has been arranged including the march, from the university to the theater, of the trustees, faculty alumni, and student body. It is under stood that fuly 1,000 students will assemble at their respective departments and march behind President Needham. This is the first annual affair of this kind. In the future, George Washington's Birthday will be one of the principal anniversaries in the institution ington's Birthday will be which bears his name. All the depart-ments in the university will gradually arrange their studies so as to enable students who enter in February to graduate at the end of the course on February 22. Already the law school has made this arrangement, and in time all the various branches of the iniversity will follow suit.

be rendered preceding the exercises until the line of march has entered the theater, and then Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee will offer the opening prayer.

The University Glee Club, under the leadersnip of Roland Roderic, will sing "Over the Hills at the Break of Day." This will be followed by the unveiling of the George Washington University flag, which, to the student body, will perhaps be the most interesting feature of the occasion.

The flag is in the university colors, buff and blue, and consists of a field of buff, bearing the St. George, cross in blue, with the seal of the university in gold in the center of the cross. This flag was designed and presented by Frederick D. Owen, an alumnus of the university. I. S. Pepper, president of the senior law class and president of the senior law class and presidents, will unveil the flag, and while he is doing this the Marine Band will play "The George Washington March," the official President's march during the Administration of President Washington.

Next will follow the presentation of the new university seal, also designed and presented by Mr. Frederick D. Owen. The seal was engraved by one of the most noted Government engravers at the Philadelphia mint.

Yesterday about fifty George Washington students who went to Charlottes wille with the debating team Saturday, paid a visit to Monticello, the home of Jefferson, and brief exercises were held to commemorate the occasion. J. W. Barrett presided, and D. H. McLean was the orator of the day. The students returned to Washington last night.
